-Made authorization function in controller, that checks user input if its valid. If valid, sets token cookie with its expiration date.
-Created authorization middleware, that gets authorization token from cookie and checks if its valid. If valid, allows to handle request, if not, aborts request with Unauthorized status
-Tested middleware by creating fake route